

Cotton Ball Sensory Play

For babies, just gently stroking the cotton ball against different parts of their face or body parts, helping them to label their body parts, encourages body awareness and is a great sensory activity!